

DIVERSIONS

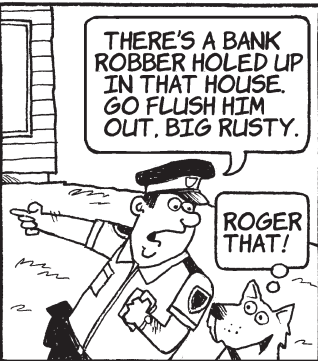

“To the mind that is still, the whole universe surrenders.”

-Lao Tsu
Legendary Chinese philosopher and Founder of Daoism

Blondie

The Other Coast

“The Adventures of Jim The Levitating Turtle” by Zac Kinsman

“Don’t Let Him In” (ref: Sinners)

“The Amazing Spider-Jim” (ref: Spiderman)

HOROSCOPES

Week of May 13 2026

(21 March- 20 April) What's important to you may not make sense to others, but that doesn't mean you should give up on your dreams of becoming a chainsaw juggler.

(21 April-21 May) A sudden wave of self reflection may have you searching for answers to the big questions. Unfortunately you can no longer ask Jeeves.

(22 May- 21 June) The value of a life can not be measured in dollars. You have to use rupees, swiss franks or yen.

(22 June- 23 July) Your hometown may be face difficult 1 times in the future. While it's best to find a peaceful solution there's a small possibility you'll have to raid Ilderton for their crops and valuables.

(24 July- 23 Aug) Frustrations at work may be getting you down lately but don't worry. You can always take a break to deal with the frustrations at home.

(24 Aug- 23 Sept) Sometimes over thinking things can be a burden and cause anxiety for yourself. Luckily underthinking mostly just causes anxiety for others.

(24 Sept- 23 Oct) A new hairstyle may be the change you need to reinvigorate your life. Might I suggest a purple pompadour dread-hawk?

(24 Oct- 22 Nov) It may be time to remind the people you love that you appreciate them. You can do this in a variety of ways, like giving them chocolate, or a kidney. It doesn't even have to be your own kidney.

(23 Nov- 21 Dec) If you've been feeling sick lately it may be due to a misalignment of your humours. Better break out the leaches.

(22 Dec- 20 Jan) A creative project may run into some roadblocks. This is because the rocket-car you built isn't street legal and you're what they call a "public danger".

(21 Jan- 19 Feb) Finding time to spend at home can be hard in this busy rat race we call life. You can solve this by selling your home and sleeping on the floor of your office.

(20 Feb- 20 March) Sometimes people can drive us up the wall, particularly if you have spider powers and they're a no nonsense newspaper editor trying to get pictures of you.

“Surreality #30: Skip Scene” by Zac Kinsman

Cartoons

by Steve Nease

