HOROSCOPES

Week of 23 September 2026

(21 March- 20 April) Don't take the people around you for granted. You never know when the aliens might invade and exterminate half of humanity and enslave the other half to work in their beryllium mines.

(21 April-21 May) A sudden burst of vitality may hit you this week. It could be a result of diet and exercise or possibly that someone slipped amphetamines in your coffee.

(22 May- 21 June) You will come up with an incredible concept for a surfing movie in a dream but by the time you wake up you'll have forgotten it and also you peed. That sucks.

(22 June- 23 July) Sanctuary is a hard thing to find in this world unless you're a french hunchback working in a bell tower.

(24 July- 23 Aug) You will need to send an important letter to your ex or organ transplant recipient. In both cases it's relating to a stolen heart...or kidney.

(24 Aug- 23 Sept) You found new love for the world around you lately. In order to maintain this feeling, stop interacting with the world right now. Just find a chair and stare at a wall.

(24 Sept- 23 Oct) You may have found yourself regretting the path you've chosen. Just remember it's never too late to become an Olympic Break Dancer.

(24 Oct- 22 Nov) Remember that you will not always be here. Eventually you might go over there points to random spot

(23 Nov- 21 Dec) A pair of feuding families in the hill country may start a civil war that will decimate both families and leave a trail of pain and destruction in their wake. Don't go to the hill country.

(22 Dec- 20 Jan) Finding joy in your work can be difficult in this cold crazy world. But at least there's coffee.

(21 Jan- 19 Feb) A thought may have occurred to you recently that led you down a rabbit hole full of new ideas. Or possibly a rabbit hole full of rabbits.

(20 Feb- 20 March) A shift in the zeitgeist may finally bring those hammer pants you saved in the 90s back into fashion.
